

Montgomery County Joint Law Enforcement Museum Update – MCPAA Newsletter – April 3, 2016

Progress is being made on the Museum Project. Brother Jim Weaver stepped up to offer his daughter's services to design the museum layout. His daughter, Tara M. Sutton, has her own design firm and is eager to help. She will meet with John Binnix & Kep Plitt, on Tuesday, to tour the space we want at the Red Brick Courthouse in Rockville. She has a laser surveying design capability that she will use to produce our needed drawings and plans.

Brother Tom Parsons also called and volunteered his architect daughter to help too, if needed. Maybe the two can collaborate? Tom volunteered his daughter without asking yet, so we'll see how that goes. I have confidence in Tara Sutton, though.

We still have some "Priority One" tasks or jobs to be filled. Please pick one of those listed below and contact me.

Project Manager
Assistant Project Manager (Time-line coordinator)
Budget Planner
Treasurer

Bob Philo has been phenomenal in several crucial areas. Jeff Pauley also wrote a couple of critical documents that were very professionally written. Larry Yates has been beating the bushes as our Inter-Agency Liaison Officer to pin down participants from our allied agencies.

Other open jobs include:

Interviewer - Living History
Publicist
Museum Construction Supervisor
Fund Raising Coordinator
Equipment Acquisition Manager
Researcher (Artifacts)

Please step up to help. If we each take a small piece of this pie it will go much faster and better.

Take care and be safe,
Karl
